Grounded Warriors

Healing Retreats for First Responders & Veterans

The Crisis

22 veterans die by suicide every day. First responders are 5x more likely to experience PTSD than the general population. While billions are spent on traditional intervention programs, recidivism rates remain high because most programs fail to address the core issue: warriors are trained to override their humanity, and they need support reintegrating it without losing their identity.

The Solution

Grounded Warriors delivers immersive, off-grid healing retreats that honor first responders' and veterans' warrior identity while redirecting their operational discipline inward. We don't ask them to stop being warriors—we help them run the most elite operation of their lives: reclaiming their peace.

Our Unique Approach

We Speak Their Language

Tactical Introspection | After Action Reviews for marriages, Standard Operating Procedures for emotional regulation, mission planning for life transitions

Emergency Protocols for the Soul | Immediate action drills for trauma responses, rage, and numbness—making healing operational

What Are You Guarding Now? | Shifting from external perimeter security to protecting their peace, marriages, and recovery

We Create Lasting Impact

The Gear Down Ceremony | Conscious rituals around choosing when to wear their operational armor instead of it wearing them 24/7

The Watch | Night vigils tending fire, writing to themselves and loved ones—familiar rhythms redirected toward self-witnessing

Building Legacy | Each cohort constructs permanent structures on the land—meditation circles, shelters, memorials—creating lineage between brothers

Controlled Burn Ritual | Planned burns they execute together, witnessing regeneration from ash—visceral metaphor for their own transformation

Program Outcomes

Immediate: - Reduced hypervigilance and improved sleep patterns - Actionable emotional regulation protocols - Renewed sense of purpose and brotherhood

Long-term: - Decreased substance dependency and self-destructive behaviors - Improved family relationships and communication - Sustainable peer support networks - Return to community as mentors and leaders

Why We're Different

Not therapy-based | We use their operational frameworks, not clinical models

Identity-honoring | Healing is the mission, vulnerability is tactical

Land-based medicine | Off-grid immersion, fire ceremonies, nature as healer

Brother-led | Facilitated by veterans who've walked the path

Legacy-building | Physical and relational structures that outlast the retreat

Investment Opportunity

Per-Participant Cost: $3,500 (4-day retreat, all-inclusive)

Cohort Size: 12-16 participants

Annual Capacity: 8 cohorts (96-128 participants)

Funding supports: Facility operations, facilitator training, participant scholarships, land development, follow-up integration support

The Bottom Line

We're not running another veterans program. We're giving warriors permission to guard their own peace with the same discipline they once guarded others.
